Mrs. Margaret Mullin and Her Daughter Among Victims, Relatives Here Learn.

ON VISIT TO CLEVELAND

Two Washington women, Mrs. Mar garet Mullin and her 30-year-old daughter, Mrs. William G. Read Mullin, were killed almost instantly in the gas blast that yesterday afternoon swept the Cleveland Clinic, according to word received here last night by the Miss Alice and May Mullin, of the Cavalle Apartments, 3500 Fourteenth street Mrs. Margaret Mullin, who had been visiting her daughter and her son-inlaw, who recently moved to Cleveland to accept a position with the Ford Motor Co., was having some dental work done at the clinic, and her daughter accompanied her to the hospital when she went there vesterday a short time before the explosion In a brief telephone conversation with friends in Cleveland last night. Miss Alice Mullin was told that the bereaved husband, who also is a cousin of his wife and mother-in-law, will bring the bodies here tomorrow. It is expected motherless by the tragedy, will be taken to his father's relatives in Baltimore.

Mrs. Margaret Mullin was the widow of Harry M. Mullin, for many years a druggist here. The family home is at 1631 Irving street northwest, but since the marriage of the younger Mrs. Mullin her mother had spent much of her time at the homes of her daughters. Mrs. Mullin, in Baltimore, and Mrs. Alexander Matlock, at Asbury Park, N. J. She was planning to visit Mrs. Matlock in Asbury Park as soon as her dental work was completed, it was learned.

PHYSICIANS BATTLE TO SAVE 40 BY ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Rescuers Find Bodies Piled in Windows and Halls Where Terror-Stricken Throngs Had Been Felled in Their Tracks by Fatal Fog That Followed Fire.

Cleveland, May 15 (A. P.) .- Poison-gas and two explosion which followed burning of X-ray films in the Cleveland Clinic today claimed 100 lives:

Tonight hospital authorities worked desperately to administer artificial respiration to 40 who were overcome. Victima of the disaster were dying at short intervals and physicians sent out appeals for additional oxygen in the fear that the supply in the city might prove insufficient. Oxygen is declared the only effective means of overcoming the gas burns.

Nearly all of the deaths were attributed to the deadly green which filtered through the four-story brick building slowly at first and then augmented by a second and greater exp than the first rushed up from the basement and cut off escadown the stairways and elevators.

Death Gas Kills Victims Quickly.

Survivors said those asphyriated were dead, their faces turning a sickly yellowish brown color within two minutes after inhaling the sas. The fumes were given off by fire of undetermined origin whi destroyed X-ray films in the basement. Some pharmaciets said it was bromine gas, while Dr. William E. Lower, one of the founders of the clinic, said it resembled the deadly phospens gas employed in the

The dead were patients, doctors and nurses who filled the four-story men structure at 11:30 o'clock, the busiest hour of the morning The first explosion came when x-ray films stored in the caught fire releasing deadly fumes. The fumes penetrated to the waiting room on the floors above. The hollow center of the building soon filled with gas as the intense heat below sent the fumes swirling upward. Before anyone had oppor tunity to escape a second blast blew out the skylight and filled every corner of the building with the deadly bromine gas. Occupants had no way of escape but the windows, and few were o reach them. These were enveloped in the fumes which hung about the building and they collapsed.

The two street entrances were choked, and the stairways leading to the roof were heavy with the fumes. Every piece of fire apparatu available was centered at the clinic and every vehicle possible was commandeered to remove the bodies. An hour and a half later all had been taken to nearby hospitals.

Gas Blinds Policemen in Streets.

The first blast was heard by Policeman Henry Therpe, walking two blocks away. He immediately turned in an alarm and ran to the build ing, at Euclid avenue and Ninety-third street. A block away he was blinded by the gas. The first firemen to arrive turned in a second alarm and police, hospital and county morgue amou lances were concentrated about the building.

Battalion Fire Chief James P. Flynn, with his driver, Louis Hilte brand were the first to enter the building. They reached the roof and chopped a hole leading to a stairway, then dropped a ladder to the fourth floor landing. Building Entered As Fumes Lift.

Some were taken to the Cleveland Clinic Hospital, adjo linic building. The others were taken to Mount Sinai, Huron and charity hospitals.

Emergency equipment was set up outside the building as the fumes ifted and permitted rescuers to work in safety. Police lines were thrown about the district to reroute traffic and hold in check a crowd of several thousand onlookers.

Inside the building firemen found many laying in the spot where the blasts found them. Rooms set aside for clinical examinations were occupied by patients and physicians. Some sat in chairs of the waiting room, overcome as the first cloud of gas swept up from the basement. Others in the front of the building were stretched along the stairs.

The rescuers found evidences of the suddenness with which disaster came to these inside the building on every hand. Hats, shoes and purses were scattered about, abandoned in the flight of those able to fight off the fumes long enough to make a frantic attempt at escape. Surgical equipment lay ready for use in the examining rooms, in the x-ray developing room a roll of film was stretched to dry. A wheel

Building Wrecked By Explosion.

The blasts shot through the building with an intensity of heat which even the masonry could not resist. As the fumes leaped from the empression of the narrow quarters in the basement they seared the odwork and charred stair rails.

Hardened plaster was blistered and peeled from the walls. A steel or was blown in and the fumes, filling a hollow compartment between balcony roof and the roof of the building, ripped out the brick and nortar as if it had been pasteboard.

Steel network of the plastering was peeled from the walls and hung long the balconies. The casings of the skylight buckled and warped mder the force of the explosion, and the broken glass was rained on the floor of the waiting room three floors below.

The suction after the explosion shattered glass doors reinforced with cel. Compression in the hollow center of the building packed air into the halls and staircases, and when this force was released by the blast the air rushed back into the center of the building, smashing the doors with the force of battering rams.

Heavy fumes hung about the building, and for two hours after the blast rescuers were unable to remain inside for long intervals.

Stephen Weizer, elevator operator, was in his car in the basement. He shot the car to the fifth-floor penthouse and escaped with burns about the face and hands. Two workmen in a coal bin below the X-ray film storage room were jarred but not otherwise injured.

Official Inquiry Under Way.

The Cleveland Clinic was established by Dr. Crile a few years ago and rapidly rose to a place of prominence in the city's medical centers. The surgeon, moted for his operations for goiter, associated himself with other physicians in the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, and in 1924 a hospital was built for the care of patients.

Official inquiry into the causes of the blast was opened immediately after the bodies had been cleared away.

Coroner A. J. Pearse prepared plans for the fire.

GROUPS MOVE IN SILENCE

Cleveland, Ohio, May 15 (A.P.) .-Curious throngs tonight milled about the Cleveland Clinic, scene of an explosion and fire which snuffed out the lives of more than four score peoplebut they were only curious. The real scene of the tragedy had shifted to the county morgue, a somber two-story building facing on Lake Erie in another part of the city.

There, shortly before the dinner hour,

Cleveland Policeman Sacrifices Himself in Work Amid Deadly Gas.

GIANT IS LADDER BASE

Cleveland, Ohio, May 15 (A.P.) .- Policeman Ernest Staab, 30, of No. 1 emergency wagon, sacrificed his life to chieve the removal of 21 bodies from the blazing gas-filled Cleveland Clinic. Staab arrived while the fumes still clogged the entrance, but time after clogged the entrance, but time after time pushed his way into the darkened halls, facing almost positive death. Some of those he removed were alive to night, some died as he carried them to open air, but Staab worked away as the fatal gas alowly destroyed his lungs. The policeman collapsed after carrying out his twenty-first burden. He followed those he rescued to an emergency cot and died a few hours later at Mount Sinai Hospital.

One of the outstanding heroes in rescue work was Robert Chares, giant Cleveland colored man. He was working at an automobile washing establishment near the clinic when he heard the explosions.

He investigated, seeing men and women screaming at the windows, he seized a ladder in an attempt at rescue. The ladder was too short. Undaunted, Chares lifted it to his shoulders and ten persons climbed down.

He then rushed into the building and resued ten more.

Another hero was Newton Payne, 28, Cleveland Transfer truck driver. With the aid of a ladder and his truck he carried to Mount Sinal Hospital six truckloads of dead and injured.

Jack Sutherland, a truck driver, passing the building, grabbed a gas mask from firemen, rushed into the building and succeeded in rescuing twenty before he himself was overcome. He was later revived.

Louis Issabucca, a taxi driver, aided in the rescue of 30.

OPENED FIRE DOOR LETS GASES ESCAPE

Investigators Are to Decide if Blast or Negligence Freed Poison Fumes.

ASPHYXIA KILLED MOST

Cleveland, May 15 (A.P.) .- Whether the fire door of the X-ray room at the Cleveland Clinic was left open or blown open by the explosion will be investigated tomorrow by Fire Warden Patrick F. Ferrie, he announced tonight.

The open door, Ferrie said, permitted the flames to shoot upward and the poisonous gases to escape through the building. He was unable to find witnesses for his investigation tonight because of confusion and grief over

It was in the X-ray room in the base ment that the explosion originated, throwing deadly fumes upward through stairways, halls and ventilator shafts. Fire followed immediately and swept the rear stairway, trapping many of those who were killed.

Reason Not Yet Known.

Investigators have yet to determine why the explosion occurred and what explosive materials were placed where it was possible for them to become ignited.

Ninety-five per cent of the victims of the explosion and fire died by gas, Coroner A. J. Pearse said tonight. The coroner said he would begin an official inquest into the tragedy when the victims had been identified.

The proposery gases were due to the

The poisonous gases were due to the burning of X-ray film in large quantities. The photographic film, which has much the same composition as gun cotton, in addition to exploding with terrific force when confined, also threw off three kinds of compounds as the result of combustion. These were camphor and carbon monoxide and the ases of nitric oxide, or other nitrogen

Persons familiar with photography pointed out that the pyroxylin film, which is a nitro cellulose compound, is to automobile lacquer.

Carbon Monoxide Exploded.

Reconstructing the tragedy, experts said tonight that the carbon monoxide, released by the burning of the film apparently exploded in the main lobby of the building, accounting for a second explosion some witnesses told of. Inhalation of the carbon monoxide resulted in death similar to the breathing of exhaust gas from an automobile in a closed garage.

Camphor vapor settled on the walls of the clinic as a brown tarry substance.

The presence of nitric oxide, the experts said, doubtless accounted for a brown vapor which was at first mistaken for bromine gas. There was not enough of either bromine or chlorine compounds in the X-ray film to account for the large amount of what was thought to be bromine gas in the wrecked building.

Film Composition Explained.

Rochester, N. Y., May 15 (A.P.).—A atement that the two varieties of in-ray film in use are not explosive in the massives, but that under certain themselves, but that under certain conditions contrary to regulations of the National Fire Protection Association, one variety, cellulose nitrate, would release gases hazardous in explosive and toxic properties, was made today to the Associated Press by officials of the Eastman Kodak Co.

Unacquainted with the kind of film in use at the Cleveland clinic, officials would not state the part played by X-ray film in the explosion and fire followed by highly poisonous fumes.

The other variety of film, cellulose acetate, was entirely harmless, the statement said, and was as safe to store as common newsprint. The official statement said:

By RAYMOND GRAM SWING. London, May 15 .- Women won their rst limited parliamentary suffrage in 1918. They won their power this year. The present election is a woman's election.

The program of the Conservative party shows this clearly, for it is a platform most scrupulously and skillfully put together in the hope of winning women's favor, and it has been devised by a party which a generation ago scoffed at the very thought of equal rights.

The hiberals have not trimmed their sails quite so notably, for Lloyd George is concentrating on unemployment, but the Liberal party is pledged to doctrines dear to women, while the Socialists have always been in theory at least, an equal rights party.

cialists have always been, in theory at least, an equal rights party.

The power of the women may be greater this year than it will be again in the near future, because of the enigma factor of the "flapper" vote. Five million women are voting in this election who never voted before and 3,000,000 of these are under 30.

has the contrary conviction. He thinks women are preternaturally conservative, they are the conservers of life and that they will be tangibly grateful to the Conservative party for recognizing their claims as citizens.

So he has dressed his window carefully. Cheaper tea, maternity benefits, education with more equal opportunity for the poor, nursery schools. When Mr. Baldwin broadcasts he says golden and moving words about the home. He talks earnestly, almost soulfully, as though he had stepped into a roomful though he had stepped into a roomful of plain women sitting about the hearth and could gauge the responses

Of their hearts.

The extension of women's suffrage has given a new color to the campaign. There is certainly more talk of peace than if the women did not vote. And the change is even more than that. The emphasis on education, the references to nursery schools and to children's health, these are not the familiar material of old-fashioned British electioneering. Politics has been broadened and has won rather than lost in dignity. For it has been brought closer to the family.

Sixty Women Candidates.

Three Succeeded Husbands.

In the House are four Conservative women, three of them with titles and great wealth, Lady Astor, the Duchess of Atholl and Lady Iveagh, the fourth of Atholl and Lady Iveagh, the fourth bring the former actress, Mabel Russell, now Mrs. Hilton Philipson.

None of these had to fight losing seats before entering the House. Lady Astor, Lady Iveagh and Mrs. Philipson succeeded their husbands in the House and can hardly be credited as feminist representatives. The three titled ladies

Another Tory candidate bears the name, not an asset in her case, of Mary Pickford. She, too, is a blue-blood, the daughter of a peer. POWER FIRM SOUGHT NOTED PAPERS, CLAIM

Publisher Tells of Becaming Agent in Efforts to Control Big Dailies.

LARGE SUMS ADVANCED

Disclosure that the International Paper & Power Co. had offered to finance purchase of more than a score of the country's leading newspapers was made yesterday in testimony by two prominent newspaper publishers before the Federal Trade Commission. The publishers, S. E. Thomason, of Chicago, and Frank E. Gannett, of Rochester, N. Y., corroborated previous testimony by A. R. Graustein, president of the I. P. & P., revealing they had received some financial aid from the power company. In each case, the pub-lishers said, Graustein approached them with offers to advance money to finance newspaper properties in return for newsprint contracts.

Testimony by Thomason and cor-espondence himself and the power Testimony by Thomason and correspondence himself and the power company, put in the record, showed he attempted to buy many of the Nation's most prominent newspapers with the power company's aid. He said, however, the power company gave him no assurance it would finance more than two papers in addition to the three he now owns and in which the power company has an interest aggregating $1,630,000. PHILIPPINES OFFICE OFFERED D. F. DAVIS

President Proposes Former Member of Cabinet as Governor General. EXPERIENCED IN AFFAIRS

(Associated Press.)
President Hoover has offered the governor generalship of the Philipines to Dwight P. Davis, of St. Louis former Secretary of War, who has the matter under advisement.

In making this announcement ves terday, White House officials said no other names would be considered for this post until Mr. Davis had made a decision. Others who have been men-decision. Others who have been mentioned prominently in connection with the appointment are Henry & Fletcher. of Pennsylvania, Ambassador to Rome, and Silas Strawn, of Chicago.

Ever since the beginning of the Hoover administration, it has been the general belief in Washington that the former War Secretary would be offered an important post abroad, but conjecture has coupled his name with an ambassadorship to one of the important European countries.

Mr. Davis' acceptance of the Phillippines governship is believed here to rest largely upon whether his family desires to leave its home in St. Louis for an indefinite stay in Manila.

The governor generalship is regarded in many administration circles as one of the most important of the Government posts, having equal rank with that of a Cabinet office. It is the highest paid office in the Government except only that of the President. pers, in a letter to Joseph L. Fearing, sales manager of the I. P. & P., Thomason wrote:

"If any one or more of them can be bought (and has not made its paper contract for 1929) I'll wire you or Graustein and come to New York. I'm assuming that's the way you would like to have the matter handled."

HIS old historic estate in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, 50 miles from the District Line, comprises 2,500 forested acres. The old manor house is eloquent of the more spacious hospitality of an older day with its 14 high-ceiled rooms. It still contains the original hand-carved woodwork and is truly a historical gem. Immediately ad-joining the manor buildings, there is a wonderful natural park, 20 acres in extent, surrounded by a nonclimbable fence, with big old trees and fresh-water lakes where trout and other game fish rise to the sportsman's fly in satisfying size and quantity, and pure crystal-clear springs. On this tract is a mile and a half of the famous Hunting Run trout stream that has been leased for the fishing rights to Lawrence Richey, secretary to President Hoover, for a term of years.

Glimpses of deer who will even feed from your hand, and of swans may be seen through the branches of the trees. Twenty miles of bridle paths wind through the forest.

An interesting historical relic on the estate is an old furnace where cannon and cannon-ball were cast for use in the Revolutionary War.

The old English boxwood on the lawn of the estate is conceded to be the prettiest in Maryland. It has been growing since Revolutionary times and is priceless. Altitude ranges from 500 to 1,800 feet, assuring Maine weather during summer days.

This property is an ideal playground for a man of means and a lover of nature. Aside from that, its present low price and other factors should enhance its value a hundred per cent within a few years. Catoctin is easily the show place of Maryland.

Madison, Wis., May 15 (United Press).

Victorious in a bitter fight with the drys in the senate, the wet forces in turned over the bill repealing the State dry law to Gov. Walter J. Kohler for his signature.

The bill, previously passed in the lower house, was passed in the Senate today but only after stubborn resistence from the dry members. A motion of nonconcurrence in the assembly bill was voted down, 11 to 19, and five amendments aimed to weaken the bill were rejected. The vote on concurrence was 21 to 9.

The governor must approve or veto decision on the bill. He has pledged decision on the bill. He has pledged his support to President Hoover in the matter of prohibition enforcement but, on the other hand, wet leaders say, he must sign the repeal measure to retain much of his following in Wisconsin.

The bill within six days or allow it to become a law without his signature.

The measure, while wiping out the Severson act, the dry enforcement law passed in 1921, restores some of its provisions for cities, villages and towns to enforce ordinances against drinking and other like regulations which were office of State prohibition commissioner and his department of agents and for

AN INSULT TO THE HOUSE.

The House of Representatives is confronted by an attempt by the Senate to originate revenue legislation, in violation of the Constitution. This proposed legislation is embodied in the debenture provisions of the farm relief bill passed by the Senate. The artful suggestion is made by senators supporting the debenture that this revenue legislation is merely "incidental" to the main purpose of the bill. Another furtive suggestion, emanating from the profound innards of Senator Norris, of Nebraska, is that the farm relief bill in its final form will be the House bill, as amended by the Senate, and that, therefore, the Senate is originating nothing!

Let the House surrender its right at this time, because of the pressure for early farm relief, and it will never again hold its constitutional powers intact. The Senate, by merely tacking revenue bills to other bills as "incidental" to another purpose, will obtain control of the great power to originate revenue legislation. It will have a master grip upon the Government's purse. The people's representatives will have surrendered to the Senate a constitutional power that can never be regained.

Is the debenture plan, or any measure that could be laid before Congress, so important that the Constitution must be violated in order to pass it?

When the Senate presumed to tell the House how revenue should be raised for the building of ships the House refused ccept the bill. It stood upon its constitutional right. The Senate stood corrected. It was a most wholesome rebuke. At that time the deceitful and misleading suggestion could have been made that the proposed raising of revenue was merely "incidental" to the main purpose, which was to provide ships for the Navy.

The Constitution sets the bounds of the Senate and the House, beyond which they can not pass without destroying the American system. Members of the House have no right to surrender a fundamental prerogative of the House, which began with the Constitution and which must endure forever if the people are to have control over taxation. The assertion of this power by the House at this time is a patriotic duty, far transcending the duty of members to expedite a farm relief bill.

The Senate will back down if the House will assert its right to originate revenue legislation. There will be no deadlock between two houses, each honestly holding to a fixed view of its constitutional powers. The Senate knows that it is wrong when it originates revenue legislation in connection with any proposal whatever. The temporary coalition of Democrats and renegade Republicans that passed the debenture plan will fall to pieces if it strikes against an adamantine House determined to maintain its dignity and its

The few words spoken by Senator Spooner on the constitutional point involved are worth tons of comment by less able men. He said:

'I think the clause of the Constitution which says "all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Repregeneric sense. I do not think it means imply raising duties. Oftentimes revenue is raised by lowering duties. I think it means, in a strict sense, affecting revenue.

If the Senate cantake away the powers of the House by indirect and "incidental" legislation on the farm relief bill it can originate a tariff bill by pretending to lower the revenue. What it is forbidden by the Constitution to do directly it can not do indirectly unless the House surenders its rights and joins the Senate n violating the Constitution.

The Senate has attempted to violate dence by its dignity, its wisdom, and its adherence to its constitutional duty. The House can now throw away its reputation and its rights by adopting a shuffling rule acknowledging that the Senate has usurped power belonging to the House, but that the outrage is overlooked this time for the sake of expediting a bill, and on condition that the Senate shall not repeat the outrage. That is the counsel of pusillanimity and opportunism.

Gentlemen of the House, assert the dignity of the House! Hold fast to the constitutional rights of the House. Keep your oaths to support and defend the Constitution. Farm relief can be worked out in some way, without the necessity of a cowardly surrender of the power of the House of Representatives. Send the Senate's farm bill back, with a message that you refuse to receive it.

THAT GRAIN SURPLUS.

When the railroads announced their willingness to accept temporary rate reductions on foreign-bound grain and flour they expressed some doubt as to whether or not such reductions would aid materially in speeding the export of the vast surplus stores that are on hand. Among the questions they asked was: What will the Canadian railroads do? The answer is at hand. On Tuesday the Canadian National Railways announced that they would meet any rate reductions made by American

There is on hand in the United States a large surplus of grain. This surplus crowds the elevators and must be got out of the way to make room for the bumper crop that will come in in July. Canada also has a surplus of old grain that must be moved to make way for the incoming crop. When the Canadian carriers put into effect reduced shipping rates, the differential favoring Canadian grain will be restored, and the American farmer will lose a good deal of the advantage that otherwise he might have obtained from reduced shipping rates.

There is, of course, a possibility that reduced shipping rates on Canadian and American grain and flour will reduce the price of grain in the world market and stimulate demand to the point where Europe and Asia will be economically able to take the surplus now on hand. The reductions contemplated, however, large as they are from the standpoint of the carriers, seem hardly large enough to affect to any considerable degree the world price. There is the further possibility that the savings will be absorbed by the various agencies through which export grain passes and that when thus distributed they will have considerably less effect on price than is anticipated. In that event the situation as regards the surplus will remain unchanged, the farmer will benefit little if at all, and the railroads will be left holding the bag.

WORKING FOR SAFER PLANES.

At Langley Field this week a group of persons prominent in the field of commercial aviation met and discussed problems relating to safety in flying and economy in operation of aircraft. The occasion was the fourth annual aircraft engineering conference sponsored by nautics. These annual meetings already have played an important part in speeding the inprovement of American aircraft, and as time goes on they will become of increasing importance. The national advisory committee itself has pioneered numerous improvements in the design of aircraft, each of which has been made available to the industry. Individual manufacturers and designers also have made discoveries and improvements that have been made common property at the meetings.

The greatest need now is increased safety for aircraft. Speedier and more economical planes, as well as planes having a greater flying range, are desirable, but planes having a greater safety factor are more urgently needed. It was in recognition of this fact that the Guggenheim safe flying contest was organized, and it is probable that with interest focused upon safety the immediate future will witness significant developments toward this end.

In the meantime each day's grist of news contains details of airplane accidents in which lives are lost, and each accident serves to dampen the people's enthusiasm for flying. Every mishap is investigated by the Aircraft Accident Board of the Department of Commerce, and at the end of each six-month period its findings, summarized, are made public. But because there is no legislation making its findings privileged from the legal standpoint, the board does not make public the details of each individual accident. The law should protect the Aircraft Accident Board in disclosing the facts and fixing the blame for every fatal air accident. A full report would give manufacturers a better knowledge of the structural weaknesses of their products and thus promote the improvement of aircraft.

ANGLO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP.

The impatience displayed by the average Englishman toward the expression of any American opinion on public matters when it differs even slightly from his own is well known. The same impatience is displayed by the average American when he hears British opinions on public questions. Both sides appear to be disgusted when they discover even the slightest disagreement of ideas.

This spirit of querulqusness recently drew well-deserved rebuke from Dr. Temple. Archbishop of York, in the course of an address delivered at Pickering, in the north riding of Yorkshire. It will be remembered that in the spring of 1924 Frank B. Kellogg. then Ambassador to Great Britain, unveiled in the parish church of Pickering a tablet in memory of his predecessor, the late Walter Hines Page. On that occasion Mr. Kellogg laid much stress on the common basic stock of the two peoples and on their common appropriation of certain precious fundamental ideas of life, conduct and government. Since then Pickering has become one of the favorite places of pilgrimage of American visitors to

It appears to be well established that both took part officially in planning the National Capital. Besides, a brass, placed in 1919 under the King tablet and flanked by the American and British flags, pays tribute to the help given by the United States to the cause of the allies in the recent war.

The visit of Archbishop Temple to Pickering was for the purpose of dedicating the new chancel paneling donated to the church by the families of two American ambassadors and the new priests' stalls subscribed for mainly, if not entirely, through the munificence of American visitors. In such circumstances and amid such surroundings the archbishop declared that the stalls and paneling were erected "in memory of the friendship which united Englishmen and Americans in the Great War." He then went on to say:

I do not believe that there is anything more important for the peace and progress of the world than mutual understanding and good fellowship between this country and the United States, and we are in a very special degree responsible for doing our own share in promoting those things. So far as friction tends to arise between England and America, I believe it is mainly due to the fact that, instead of expecting differences, we tend to expect similarities, and are irritated when we find that Americans differ from Let us be clear about this, that the United States have become as completely distinct a nation, and as different from us, as any of the nations of Europe is. They have developed traditions, principles and associations of their own which are not the same as ours, and we must learn not to be distressed when they turn out to be different from us in their outlook and desires.

These are words of wisdom. They apply to Americans as well as to Englishmen.

Chequers, where Lloyd George, as the first official resident, made World War diplomatic history, came to the British government in 1917 by gift from Lord and Lady Lee. Its location, only 38 miles northwest of London, on the main line to busy Birmingham, puts Chequers within easy reach of the metropolitan "White House" at 10 Downing street. In an hour Premier Baldwin can escape from the heat and noise of the city to the modest heights of the Chiltern Hills, where his garden terraces command a view over the peaceful green countryside sloping down to the Thames River.

Chequers' associations are chiefly with Cromwell, although he never entered the halls. Frances Cromwell, daughter of the protector, married John Russell, of Chequers, and brought to the manor mementos of her famous father. Of these historic treasures the most important is the mask of Cromwell found a few years ago in a neglected corner.

Thirty miles southwest of Paris and halfway to Chartres is the chateau of Rambouillet in the forest of Yveline, a vast wood which spreads nearly 3,000 acres. A recent government inventory values the estate reserved for the President of France at $1,200,000.

Rambouillet has long been in the national domain. Francis I hunted in the sixteenth century through the same glades where President Doumergue follows the hounds today. Louis XIV and Mme. de Maintenon came to Rambouillet as did Louis XV and the Countess de Toulouse. Napoleon flew into a temper when he saw medallions of the women of the royal family looking down at him as he was about to bathe in the Salle de Bains.

Then, in the middle of the last century, the estate was rented to a man who converted the palace into a roadhouse, but the government soon repossessed the property for a national residence. Today the chateau of Rambouillet offers its regal luxury in the service of democratic France.

Some of the gardens at Rambouillet are laid out in the English style. By a remarkable coincidence, which former Premier Herriot of France probably did not overlook when he visited former Premier MacDonald, the garden plans at the English manor are in the French

The Fact That Nature Gave Man Fear Is Proof That He Needs It. By ROBERT QUILLEN

EATHER HEARTH was a great scientist who found truth in a 1 test tube. If a truth could be demonstrated, he accepted it; but he took nothing for granted, and he smiled a superior smile when people talked apout God.

"Show me a god." he challenged. One day, as he brooded over the follies of men, Hearth determined to give the world a new religion, based on science. "But first," said he, There are 4,000,000 pupils in pub-"I will conduct an experiment and discover what kind of creature man lic high schools alone and over 600 of

The climate of the district was ideal, and within the walls there were grasses and flowers and trees and birds all the year. This place was to be his test tube.

Here he brought two stolen infant boys. He tended them carefully until they were able to crawl, but they never were permitted to hear a to the teaching staff of our high human voice; and when they were able to move about, he no longer came to them in daylight or made them aware of his presence at night when he brought food.

As the months and years passed he watched them through field glasses-watched them as they learned to play, to throw stones, to catch birds, to clean themselves in a pool, to make signs and utter the annual educational budget by dissounds that served them as a language.

The Drums of Morning

THE dew is on the grass, the sun is levelling its beams I through the trees, the horses whinny as the hostler lifts the saddle; golf clubs and racquets stand ready by the door-and the city is as remote as Arabia for all you care.

Morning at The Homestead! Good sleep over, you are up early for whatever the next good thing may be. A light breeze blows from the woods as bracing as a cordialand the best of Southern breakfasts keys you for the day.

You can ride to hounds, or ride alone through the woods. You can play golf on your choice of three wonderful courses or you can play tennis on as perfect courts as are to befound in America. You can drive over the quiet hills in a Homestead phaeton undisturbed by obnoxious sign boards. Here you have the grandest scenery in all the East. You can attend concerts in the afternoon, dance in the evening, and swim when you will.

But best of all you can forget the nervous tension of the city and capture again man's country heritage.

Here this is easier than elsewhere because of the climate. the natural surroundings, the unequalled equipment and the famous springs. The hydro-therapeutic treatments available at The Homestead for those whom they will benefit are given under conditions unsurpassed anywhere.

There is health in these hills! A well illustrated booklet will be sent upon request.

today exonerating Dr. Thomas T. Shields, chairman of the board of trustees of Des Moines University, and Miss of rumors touching the personal inthe cinema.

Letters to the Governor of Iowa and the Mayor of Des Moines, prepared by a committee of three appointed by the trustees today, charging lack of protection by police of students from other nations at the school and asking assurance of such protection if the union was to continue to conduct a school in Des Moines, were read by Dr. French E. Oliver, of Los Angeles. It was decided to send the letters by air mail to the executives, with a request for telegraphed answers by Friday, the last night of the convention.

During the afternoon several of the trustees spoke in glowing terms of Dr. Shields and Miss Rebman, their remarks bringing unfailing applause from the delegates. Letters to the Governor of Iowa and

The letters, prepared by Dr. Shields, Dr. J. W. Hoyt, of Cleveland, and E. A. Brownies, of Toronto, called the Iowa executive's attention to the disturbances at the university, charging "indignities were heaped on the trustees," especially aimed at Dr. Shields, a Canadian, and that four Canadian students were obliged to leave Des Moines for Canada three weeks before the close of the semester, as they "could be assured of no protection in the city by police."

Only Protected Americans.

It was declared the court's injunction, protecting interests of American citizens, offered no protection to stu-dents of other nationality. The letter to the mayor and city council asked telegrams of assurance that the school heads might operate the school protected by the laws of

Decision Was Expected

Des Moines, Iowa, May 15 (A.P.).— Dr. H. C. Wayman tonight refused to comment on the action of the Baptist Bible Union in voting unanimously to uphold Dr. T. T. Shields, president of the board, and the other trustees in dismissing the entire faculty of Des Moines University.

"It is just interesting, that's all. It is pretty much what I expected."

Furthermore, he is 6 feet tall, weighs 165 pounds—you'd guess more—and has brown hair and blue eyes. For further information, call Brighton!

Mrs. Harriet Hawley Locher, director of the Department of Public Service and Education of the Stanley Co. of America, will attend the first demon-stration of talking educational pictures given before the Visual Instruction Association at the Hotel Barbizon, in New York City tonight. Mrs. Locher is a member of the advisory council of this organization which consists of persons eminent in educational circles. active in social and civic service and engaged in arts and trade affiliated with the production and distribution of visual aids.

Waring's Pennsylvanians will be heard for the first time from the audio ble screen when they appear in "Syn-copation" at the Rialto Theater next week. This is the favorite band of Washington's amusement seekers and holds the record for aggregate number of weeks played in the Capital City something like 22 or 24, or thereabouts. Since the last appearance of the Pennsylvanians here in the flesh, they have been heard in Paris, on the New York vaudeville and musical comedy stages and now debut in pictures. The personnel of the organization remains unchanged, except for the absence of Tom Waring, formerly planist and vocalist, who is touring the country as a "single" with marked success.

There is so much of distinction coming to the local houses next week that it might not be a bad idea to itemize the bills that are to be inaugurated Saturday.

He spoke rapidly in French to his companions. Instantly two laid down their rifles and seized the old detective, the third thrust a rifle directly against his heart. It was a ticklish situation.
Old King Brady did not dare move an inch. The tall man took out a morocco case filled with many vials. From one of these he poured a portion of the contents on the floor, and then with the aid of the men, forced the contents remaining in the bottle down Old King Brady's throat. The result was quick. His head began to swim and complete unconsciousness quickly followed.

When the old detective awoke he had a badly aching head, and his mind was confused. The place was in total darkness. "Where in the world am I?" he asked himself. He could feel the floor moving beneath him. "I must be on the water," he thought. "It smells like a ship's hold." He struck a match and looked about him. Sure enough he was in the hold of some vessel.

"Set me free." said Alice. "and the expedition will never start."

"I'd do it now if I dared." replied the Voodoo Queen, "but I'll have to consult some others in the house." So she withdrew. "Hold him, governor! I'll handcuff him!" the latter sung out. "On with the bracelets. Harry!" cried the old detective. The doctor was promptly handcuffed and they started for the station.

The Plot Revealed.

Alice, as you will recall, had just been discovered by the Voodoo Queen to be a white woman in disguise. She did not know what to do. Cella showed signs of fainting. Two negroes led them back of the stage through a door and up the stairs into an attic. Here they were locked in.

"We certainly have got ourselves into trouble," sighed Cella. "What do you suppose will happen to us in this horrible house?"

"Impossible to say," repiled Alice.
"The question is, what are we to do?"

She paused near the door; "I wish you would tell me what this all means," she said in English. "I don't understand why you come bothering me."

Alice decided to tell the truth, wise Alice decided to tell the truth, wise or otherwise.

"He does. I placed him with a man who had known all his mother's people. The man is Dr. Lambier, once president of Hait!."

"And where is the child?"

"I shall not tell you. You tell me why Mr. Rollman wants him—is there money coming to him? Tell me your real name."

"I understand he has some money coming to him, My name is Alice Montgomery; I am connected with the Brady Detective Bureau."

"That is altogether different. I will think it over; perhaps I can help you get the child. I knew Rufus Rollman was after little Henry; Dr. Lambier is responsible for the death of Nicholas Mendies who possessed proofs of little Henry's identity which he stole from me, letters, papers and so on. Dr. Lambier wanted these; he was to have had himself appointed guardian of the boy and claim his share of the Rollman estate."

"Let us see what we can do toward escaping," said Alice. She climbed on the sofa and found she could reach the scuttle in the roof. She drew herself up and with some difficulty managed to climb out on the roof.

A moment later Cella heard her scream. Following the scream came a revolver shot. What has happened to Alice now?

TRAVEL with CALVIN COOLIDGE on his ROAD to the WHITE HOUSE

"It's Quite a Distance, But MY Boys Can Make It"

TN June Cosmopolitan begins the Autobiography of L Calvin Coolidge. You who have read Mr. Coolidge's human documents in Cosmopolitan will be glad to know that, in the same simple, human vein, he will tell the story of his entire career.

You will trace with him his pioneer ancestry and find forbears who show traces of Indian blood.

You will live with him in the five-room cottage in which he was born; you will gather with his neighbors in his father's country store, the annual rent of which was $40; you will meet the quarrelsome blacksmith who could throw a horse to the ground, but who was kind to the little boy; you will see the beautiful young mother concerning whom he has written an undying tribute.

In succeeding installments you will go with him to quaint Black River Academy; you will see him make his first oration.

You will follow him to Amherst and sit with him under spiritually minded professors. You will hear him tell of a college prank and, while he veils the culprit, you will suspect him of being guilty.

You will see him enter a law office and live as a law student, on $30 a month. You will bend with him over the books that molded his literary standards; you will see him win a gold medal for the best essay on "The Principles Fought for in the American Revolution."

You will see him meet Miss Goodhue and glimpse the romance which makes her Mrs. Calvin Coolidge. You will note with deep interest his affectionate words about his wife.

You will follow him through his career as Governor, through the dramatic Boston police strike, through the administration of President Harding-and into the White House.

Ray Long, Editor of Cosmopolitan, well describes Mr. Coolidge's narrative when he says, "It is one of the most touching and one of the most inspiring stories of our country ever penned."

We are crowding our presses to capacity each month in an effort to insure that all may get Cosmopolitan, but the demand grows constantly. The early buyer, however, is never disappointed! Get your June Cosmopolitan today.

Dr. Eckener postponed the departure 24 hours because permission was not received until Tuesday night. Zeppelin authorities said Dr. Eckener had con-ferred with the government concerning the advisability of leaving at midnight but dropped the matter although Paris reports, as finally received here, authorized the flight over French terri-

The dirigible will use leuna gas for fuel rather than blau gas, although the blau gas is lighter. Capt. Lehmann said leuna gas was as efficient. Enough for 130 hours flying will be carried. The dirigible's freight weighs 4.000 pounds, the mail weighs 1.000 pounds. Each passenger was permitted 22 pounds of baggage.

In the meantime the President is being represented at the Capitol as being entirely dissatisfied with the tariff bill and that he is depending on the Senate to greatly revise it. He is particularly opposed, it is said, against the proposed increases in building materials.

It may be that after all is said and done the progressive Republicans and Democrats, with the debenture plan as a threat, will be able to write a tariff bill for the South and West that will, for the first time since 1860, leave the East outside looking in.

It is not yet evident that the progressive Republicans and Democrats have agreed, in so many words, that this is their common end, but it is one to which they are certainly moving—and apparently irresistibly.

WRC Fights To Retain Its Air Channel

WNJ at Hearing Contends Washington Is Over Its Quota: Capital Station Cites Services It Gives to Nation and City.

Counsel for Station WRC and the Naional Broadcasting Co. yesterday vigrously resisted the application of Staon WNJ. Newark, for the present wave ingth of WRC. The effort to wrest way from Washington and W.&C the 0-kilocycle channel was based purely n legal grounds and not upon the relative public service merits of the two tations. It promises to call forth in the courts another test of the Davis-Dill equalization amendment, for it is generally believed that the Newark station's application will be denied by the Federal Radio Commission.

Station WNJ, owned by a Newark in-estment company, through its coun-il, Edward A. Schilling, told the commission that it will carry its case to court to determine whether the com-mission has carried out the mandate of Congress in effecting its reallocation of last November. Entitled only to onehalf of a regional and six-tenths of a local channel—that is, an amount of time on those channels in that propor--the District of Columbia instead has been awarded two full regional channels, or full time on both, for its two leading stations it, was contended by Mr. Schilling.

Much the same situation prevails in Maine and Rhode Island, both of which obtained more than their quota of channels under the November realloca-tion, according to Mr. Schilling. The Newark applicants cast aside the public service aspects, obeying the com-mission's procedure regarding applying for some one else's channel merely as a perfunctory matter. It made no at-tack on the merits of WRC and con-fined its case wholly to the legal ques-tions involved. Its chief point is that those involved. Its chief point is that the equalization amendment's requirements were not followed and that Washington today is over-quota in comparison with New Jersey.

New Jersey, it was stated, is entitled to 1.1 cleared, 3.5 regional and 4.3 local thannels, and under the reallocation contained only 2 regional and 1.9 local.
The fact that Station WOR, Newark, one of the leading stations in the mene of the leading stations in the me-ropolitan area and one of the leaders tropolitan area and one of the leaders in the country, is operating on a cleared channel was not admitted. Many claim that WOR is a New York station e-cause its main studio is in New York

Although the applicant was willing to rest his case on the legal contention solely following the testimony of Herman Lubinsky, the station's owner, the lesses to testify as to the public ice character of WRC. He told the service character of WRC. He told the commission that the issue raised by the New Jersay applicant was a novel one, which, if sustained by the courts, would eliminate WRC from broadcasting entirely to the detriment of the residents of Washington and the surrounding territory.

The first witness for WBC was the district manager for the Radio Corporation of America, F. P. Guthrie, who testified merely that the station was owned by the R. C. 'Baby Snatchers" to Provide Suspense on WMAL at 8-Jessica Dragonette Will Sing Over WRC at 7:30-Waltz Music at 10.

A mystery thriller, entitled "Baby Snatchers," will provide suspense in the first of the new series of broadcasts to be inaugurated at 8 o'clock tonight rom WMAL.

Station WMAL will broadcast a halfhour concert by the United States Marine Band, under the direction of Capt. Taylor Branson, at 7:30 o'clock from the Sylvan Theater, in the Washington Monument grounds.

Allen Jones, tenor, will be the featured artist during the Sonora Hour at 8:30 o'clock. He has selected two numbers for this microphone appear-ance. "Siciliana" from Mascagni's "Cav-alieria Rusticana" and Schertzinger's romantic song "Marcheta." A male trio will sing "Sorry For Me" and "When Love Comes Stealing."

Station WRC will broadcast the features heard regularly each Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock with the Hoover Sentinels. Jessica Dragon-ette, soprano, and a male quartet are oroidered in a blazing mosaic of sparking color and life. This, when done with taste and discretion, is a richly charming effect.

BORAX AND MOSQUITO.

BORAX AND MOSQUITO.

BORAX gives promise of being a valuable agent for mosquito prevention, according to J. Lyell Clarke. It kills mosquito larvae in three days, and it prevents mosquito eggs from hatching. Furthermore, one application may be effective for more than a year. It kills the mosquito eggs that are carried over in marsh mud from one season to another. It is cheaper than oil and labor greatly prefers using it. It can not be used in fish ponds, since it kills fish, but, on the other hand, it does not spoil tank water for laundry purposes.

It was used in a solution made by dissolving 18 grains of borax in 1 gallon of water. In some cases borax powder was spread over the surface in quantities capable of making a one to four thousand solution. The cost of borax and applying it for each acre of marsh was about $15. The cost per acre for treating marsh six times a year was spout $70.

Mr. Clarke has found tar acid oil very effective as a repellent both to keep mosquitoes breeding under railroads, in culverts, in catch besins, manholes and similar places. At first he tried a mixture of one part acid tar oil and three similar places. At first he tried a mix-ture of one part acid tar oil and three parts furnace oil. This was later abanparts furnace oil. This was later abandoned for undiluted acid tar oil. This was sprayed against the walls. The effects of a single apraying were found to last two months in many cases. Few mosquitoes, wigglers or eggs were found in catch basins so treated. Mixtures of acid tar oil and furnace oil as repellents to be used on the skin he experimented with.

repellents to be used on the skin he experimented with.

Mr. Clarke tried various methods of spreading oil over stagnant water and marshes. He found a power pump to have many advantages over the knapsack spray. The oil in sufficient quantity was fed into a stream of water passing into the pump. It emerged as a fine spray which could be sent for many feet. The cost was considerably less than hand spraying, and the work was better done.

TONSILS AND ADENOIDS. Mrs. B. W. S. writes: My little girl, 3 years of age, is recovering from chicken pox. On the morning that she really "broke out" she started talking through her nose. This is her third week and she is still at it.

Does chicken pox cause this? Is there anything I can do to stop it?

Packard was the buil favorite of the session, rising about 9 points to a record price at 153%, but falling back to 150% at the close, in a turnover of nearly 350,000 shares. Heavy buying was attracted by reports of tests of its new Diesel aviation motor.

The so-called Morgan stocks were heavily bought during the morning, but ran into considerable profit-taking General Electric fluctuated wildly touching a new peak at 282, droptouching a new peak at 282, drop-g to 274, and closing at 280½, a gain of 3½. Johns Manville sold about 5 points, then lost most of gain. International Telephone ted forward, then went into a deciine, closing nearly 3 points off. In the utilities. North American rose nearly 3 points to a new high, but lost most of its gain. American & Foreign Power made an extreme gain of nearly 6 points. United Cor-peration encountered heavy realizing. peration encountered heavy realizing, closing more than 2 points lower Tobacco stocks were strengthened by renewed reports that an end of the cigarette price-cutting war was in the immediate offing. American Tobacco B rose more than 3 points.

tis Elevator Up 15 Points.

Otis Elevator, a rather mercurial sue, soared 15 points to within 3 oints of its record. Hershey Choco-tte, Marlin Rockwell and F. G. Shatwere among issues reaching new ground. Chemicals were in brisk and for a time, Columbian Carbon and Commercial Solvents advancing about 9 and 7 points, but later can-celing most of the gains. Simmons was a strong spot, mounting more than 6 points on the statement of Presi-dent Simmons that sales are running more than 12 per cent ahead of last more than 12 per cent ahead of last year.

The selling embraced such important issues as Allis Chalmers, Goodyear, Radio, Westinghouse and United States Steel, all of which sagged 2 points or more. Coppers were heavy, Anaconda slipping back about 2 points. United Aircraft, Wright and Curtiss Aeros lost 2 to 4 points. Sparks Withington dropped nearly 6, and Adams Express 8. Commodities eased somewhat. Wheat and corn sagged about ½ of a cent a bushel on bearish weather reports. Cotton declined on lower Liverpool cables, but regained most of its loss on indications of less favorable weather. Foreign exchanges were dull, with leading European currencies a shade lower, sterling cables sagging to 4.853-32, which is near the incoming gold point.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, May 15 (A.P.)—Rallies from tearly decline in cotton were followed by newed weakness under realizing or reselfs by recent buyers who appeared to be appointed over the failure of bullish feares to bring in more general demand, by contracts after selling up from 18.43 to .76, closed at 18.54 compared with yested barely steady at net declines of 2 to points.

The opening was steady at a decline of to 12 points under continuation of yester-day's selling movement which was promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables are promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and protes of the south. May eased off to 19.25 and December to 18.56 under these initial offerings. But the market soon steadled on the theory that barometric conditions pointed to more unsettled weather, somewhat lower temperatures and probably renewed showers or rains in western and central sections of the belt. The buying became more active after the publication of the weekly report of the weather Bureau, which was evidently resarded as unfavorable with reference to some sections particularly in the northern part of the belt. For a time the market showed considerable strength.

May advanced to 19.48 and December to 18.62 on covering or rebuying by recent sellers and a moderate commission house demand, making net advances of about 10 to 20 points on active positions. July was relatively firm on this upturn, selling about 13 points over the new October contract, but demand tapered off at the higher levels while offerings increased.

Part of the selling which followed appeared to come from Wall street sources and market may be a selling or liquidation by the advance of 18 to 25 points from the best. There also was realing or liquidation by the advance of 18 to 25 points from the best. There also was realing or liquidation by the advance of 18 to 25 points from the best. CONVERTIBLE BONDS AGAIN LEAD TRADING

General Market Is Listless With Call Money Ruling at 15 Per Cent.

FOREIGNS ARE IRREGULAR

New York, May 15 (A.P.).—The convertible issues again contributed life to an otherwise listless bond market today, but failure of stocks to make headway against a 15 per cent call money rate kept the share privilege obligations close to yesterday's final prices.

High-grade investment bonds and United States Government securities were quiet and irregularly lower. The Associated Press averages dropped slightly to within about one-quarter Missouri Pacific 5½s furnished the feature in the convertible list, selling as high as 104% and closing at 104. as high as 104% and closing at 104, for a 1-point gain, a new high, on a turnower of $684.000, par value. Other popular convertibles, including American I. G. Chemical 5½s, American Telephone 4½s and International Telephone 4½s, were well traded, but failed to make headway.

Interest in the rails and industrials larged, although the former held steady.

lagged, although the former held steady, closing at about the day's best prices. New York Central refunding 5s dipped into new low ground at 103%, but recovered for a fractional net gain on the day's trading. Atchison general 4s sold off a fraction.

Mexican Government obligations dis-played strength in the foreign list, which otherwise moved played strength in the foreign list, which otherwise moved irregularly. Mexican assented 5s sold up 2% points, while the 4s gained 1½ points. German General Electric 6s equaled their low for the year at 88. Brazilian 6½ sof 1927-57 moved into new low ground. United States Government bonds shaded off, reflecting the stiffening in money rates.

shaded off, reflecting the still the money rates.

The foreign sugar group, which has been affected adversely by the large crop and proposals for a higher tariff, continued to work lower. Cuba Cane Sugar debenture 8s sold off 1½ points, to 60, the previous low for the year. Cuba Railroad refunding 7½ also sold the new 1929 minimum. Cuba Railroad refunding 1/2s also collect at a new 1929 minimum.

Industrials were apathetic, with changes narrow. American Ice 5s dipped into new low ground at 87½ for a net loss of nearly 1½ points.

Ungerleider Financial Corporation has been formed under the laws of Delaware to buy, sell, trade in or hold stocks and securities of any kind, to originate and to participate in and act as manager of syndicates and underwritings, and to exercise such other of its charter powers as its Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

It is expected that the Corporation will commence business with $25,000,000 in cash, arising from the sale of 500,000 shares of its capital stock, and as Samuel Ungerleider & Co. will pay all of the expenses in connection with the organization and the issue and distribution of this stock, the above sum will be net to the Corporation. Of the shares being issued, 50,000 shares are being purchased by Samuel Ungerleider & Co. at $50 per share.

The Board of Directors of the Corporation is composed of the following:-

DAVID BERNSTEIN, Director and Treasurer, Loew's Inc., New York.

CHARLES B. H. DELLER,

WILLIAM C. DURANT, Chairman of Board and Director, Liberty National Bank & Trust Company, New York.

President, Fox Film Corporation, New York. E. G. LONG, K. C.,

EDWIN L. WEISL,

Keehn, Woods, Weisl & Keeley, Chicago, Illinois.

A. S. WHITE, Vice President, The Bankus Corporation, New York.

The Corporation has entered into a management contract with Messrs. Samuel Ungerleider & Co. under the terms of which that firm will receive no compensation except standard commissions on brokerage transactions unless the Corporation earns annually in excess of 8% on its capital and surplus as of the beginning of each year plus appropriate adjustments for capital added during such year; in any year in which the realized net profits exceed this 8%, the firm will be entitled to receive an amount equal to 20% of the net profits but only to the extent that the payment thereof will not reduce the net profits below this 8%. For the year 1929 the firm will become entitled to compensation, on the basis stated, when the Corporation shall have earned at the rate of 8% per annum on its capital and surplus for the portion of the year during which the management contract shall have been in effect. The requirement for the annual earning of net profits of 8% shall be cumulative, so that if in any year the Corporation shall fail to have net earnings of that amount, the deficiency must be made good in subsequent years before the firm will be entitled to receive compensation.

The certificate of incorporation and/or the management contract contain provisions to the following effect, among others:

- 1. All stock now issued or authorized is of the same class, and all shares have identical rights as to voting, dividends and otherwise.
- 2. The stockholders, by a majority vote, may terminate the management contract at any time. If any director shall be elected to the Board of the Corporation without the approval of Samuel Ungerleider & Co., that firm may terminate the management contract. Upon termination of the management contract, the Corporation shall, at the request of Samuel Ungerleider & Co., change its name so as to eliminate all reference to that firm.
- 3. No stockholder shall, as a matter of right, be entitled to subscribe to any additional stock of any class.

The Corporation will not take over any securities now owned by Samuel Ungerleider & Co. That firm may deal freely with the Corporation, but in any transaction between them, Samuel Ungerleider & Co. will accept responsibility for the fairness of the transaction. There are no options on any unissued stock, nor has the Corporation any other agreements except those herein referred to.

The above is subject to the more complete statements contained in the certificate of incorporation and the management contract, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned upon request.

Price $52 per Share

This offering is made subject to allotment or prior sale and in all respects when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to approval of our counsel, Messrs. Jonas & Neuburger. It is expected that delivery of temporary or definitive stock certificates will be made on or about May 22, 1929, at the office of Samuel Ungerleider & Co., 50 Broadway, New York, N. Y., against payment therefor in New York funds.

The Corporation has agreed to make application to list these shares on the New York Curb Market.

2 BALL TEAMS -Giants and Braves-LOSE IDENTITY By WESTBROOK PEGLER_

EW YORK, May 15.—The Boston Braves and the New York Giants seem to have switched identity seem to have switched identity for the time being, and both are behaving in a most unconventional manner. At the present time the Giants occupy seventh place, which is the spiritual home of the Braves, and the Boston Club, for no reason that the best minds of the business are able to advance, are frequenting first division. It may be unseemly of me to advance a solution of a problem which the expert opinion of the Eastern Seaboard has been unable to solve, because I am uncommonly naive about baseball and judge the athletes solely by what video to them in the line of duty, but sometimes the simple reasoning of the lay mind is more direct than expert meditation, and it just occurs to me that the Braves may be up there and the Giants down there because the Braves have been a better baseball club than the Giants in the ball games played to date. Giants in the ball games played to date

Fault Not With Managers, By Unanimous Consent.

I offer this suggestion for what it is worth, apprehending that statistics can be adduced to prove it worthless. My opinions never can survive ordeal by decimal points, and I am prepared to learn that the Boston Braves are in first division because they are a very inferior ball club, whereas the Giants are last but one in the league because they are artists to the last man.

Beginning with the manager, it is obvious that the manager of the Braves because Mr. John McGraw is the master mind of baseball, whereas Judge Emil Fuchs is, by unanimous consent, including his own, no basebal' manager at all. However, Mr. McGraw has been alling with the croup off and on and has been compelled to watch the ball game at the Polo Grounds from his office window, with hot toddies at hand. Some of the scenes which he has witnessed through the window have caused him to reach hurriedly for is toddy and hastilly draw the shade.

Giants Conceded an Edge With the start and later twice came from behind to tie the score.

It was a southpaw duel between Garland Braxton and Walter Stewart, and the learn that the better of it. He granted but seven hits and the only run which the Nats earned of him was a liusty homer by Ossie Bluege in the eighth. It was a drive into the stands in left center, a tremendous clout. Braxton lost because he allowed the Browns to bunch their blows. They were credited with three hits in each of the scoring rounds. They won the game in the eighth, scoring two runs on three clean hits.

Rice, with two singles, led the Washington attack, with Bluege and Judge contributing the fielding features. The Nats broke the ice in the first inning, dropped behind in the second, and knot ted the count in the third, only to see the home gang again take the lead and hold it until the eighth, when the leaf the count in the third, only to see the home gang again take the lead and hold it until the eighth, when the count in the third, only to see the home gang again take the lead and hold it until the eighth, when the count is the story of the scoring two runs of the scoring rounds.

Giants Conceded an Edge With Only One Assistant Manager.

dge Fuchs, however, has been suf-

Judge Fuchs, however, has been suffering from dizzy spells and black spots before the eyes ever since he assumed a financial interest in the Boston firm, so it seems logical to write of both managers as net loss thus far and look to the vice managers.

For his assistant, Mr. McGraw has had Mr. Cracker Schalk, the elderly young catcher and late manager of the Chicago White Sox. Mr. Fuchs has been turning for advice and counsel to John Evers, one of the many guest conductors who stopped off in Chicago temporarily to manage the Cubs before the engagement of Joseph McCarthy.

Mr. Schalk and Mr. Evers won no pennants and few plaudits as managers in Chicago, so the stand-off persists to the second degree of management. Put Mr. Fuchs also has available an assistant vice manager, Mr. Rabbit Maranville, his shortstop, who also served briefly and uproariously as manager of the Giants, because, obviously two such vice-managers are worse than one.

Giants Owe Present Position

Of the five runs scored in the first three frames. more than half were tainted, as errors figured in each of the Washington tallies, while a mental miscue by Braxton gave the Browns one of theirs. Rice opened for the Nats with a single past Kress, and the home of theirs. Rice opened for the Nats with a single past Kress, and the home short fielder then booted Judge's hot one. A helpful out and Bluege's sacrifice fly then scored Rice.

One was down when the Browns went on their scoring spree in the second. Then Kress and O'Rourke doubled in rapid order. The latter took third on Millilo's scratch safety—a dinky little pop fly just out of Braxton's reach, and scored when Braxton's reach, and score

Thus, I take it, the Giants owe the present position to an honest inferior ity on the ball field, always noting however, that things are never wha they seem when subjected to exper sis and statistics

It may be that Mr. McGraw's ball clut suffers from too much exploitation. He has some of the late Mr. Rickard's cunning and has been known time an again to exalt individual athletes fa beyond their true abilities, in order t hearten the players themselves and at tract the customers. In the presen instance, he brought his ball tean home from Texas to start the season to an accompaniment of a ballyho reminiscent of Jack Dempsey's occasional arrivals in town when he was champion of the world. They were ball club of unique perfection an faced the season with all the confidence

Miss Collett came into her real championship form in her crushing de-feat of Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen, Toronto, Canada, 7 up and 6 to play, in the afternoon. Only one shot went wrong in the entire round—this a topped Joyce Wethered, who has won the championship three times, easily won h two matches today, defeating Miss Shewan in the morning, 5 and 3, and Mrs. Percy Garon in the afternoon, 5 and 4.

Tomorrow morning Miss Collett plays Mrs. J. B. Watson, winner of the Scottish championship in 1920, 1921 and 1922, and if she wins will play either Miss Enid Wilson, the English champion, or Miss Doris Park in the afternoon.

JARDINE IS ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF BOARD

Former Agriculture Secretary Given Investment Corporation of North America Post.

STOCK TRADING DECLINES

By THOMAS M. CAHILL. Election of William M. Jardine, for-mer Secretary of Agriculture, to the chairmanship of the board of direc-tors of Investment Corporation of North America, at a special meeting, was announced yesterday.

Mr. Jardine succeeds Lyman B. Ken-dall, who until his recent death was active head of the corporation. Ag-the new chairman of the board, Mr. Jardine automatically becomes a mem-the new chairman of the board, Mr. Jardine automatically becomes a member of the executive committee, which the by-laws provide shall be composed of the chairman of the board, the president of the corporation and one other director.

In securing the affiliation of Mr. Jardine, the corporation is most fortunate. His broad experience and participation in national affairs eminently qualify him as the directing head of a corporation of this character.

Rolfe E. Bolling, president of the Merchants Bank & Trust Co., who has been president of the corporation since its organization, will continue to fill that office.

Henry Shepherd, who is associated fill that office.

Henry Shepherd, who is associated with the local office of Clark, Childs & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, was elected secretary of the corporation, and J. V. Tarter, assistant secretary.

Investment Corporation of North America was organized to give Washington, investors an concernity to ington investors an opportunity to participate with safety in the profits which normally accrue to a financial corporation with substantial capital and a personnel of outstanding quali-

Freight Traffic Increases.

Volume of freight traffic handled by the class I railroads in Marth amounted to 40,212,666,000 net ton miles, the Bureau of Railway Economics announced yesterday, this exceeding by 726,610,000 net ton miles or 1.8 per cent the volume of traffic in March last year, but being a reduction of 1,604,240,000 net ton miles or 3.8 per cent under that for March, 1927.

In the eastern district there was an increase in the volume of freight handled of 5.5 per cent in March, 1929, compared with the same month in 1928, while the southern district reported a decrease of 5.6 per cent. The western district announced a decrease of one-tenth of 1 per cent. Freight Traffic Increases.

district announced a decrease of one-tenth of 1 per cent.

The volume of traffic for the first three months in 1929 amounted to 117,540,335,000 net ton miles, an in-crease of 6,039,587,000 net ton miles or 5.4 per cent above the corresponding period in 1928, but a decrease, however, of 757,875 net ton miles or six-tenths of 1 per cent under the same period in 1927.

of I per cent under the same period in 1927.

Railroads in the eastern district for the three-months' period this year reported an increase of 9.1 per cent in the volume of freight traffic handled, compared with the same period in 1928, while the southern district reported a decline of seven-tenths of 1 per cent and the western district an increase of 2.9 per cent.

The Washington Chapter, National Institute of Credit, the educational department of the Washington Association of Credit Men, yesterday awarded to students completing successfully for the year a course in credits, collections and basic economics, certificates of completion, presentation taking place at the Raleigh Hotel.

Lister T. Watts, president of the association, presenting the certificates, urged the students to continue their educational work, stating that nothing was more important in the business world today than the education of those who must assist in the solution of the many important business problems.

Chicago, May 15 (A.P.).—Blocking of farm relief measures at Washington went hand in hand here today with lower prices for wheat. Word that the House and Senate were in a deadlock over the debenture plan led to lively selling and to a sudden drop in wheat values that contrasted with advances which earlier had followed predictions of frost tonight both for Kansas and Nebraska. Quotations on wheat were weak. Color of the best of the selling the sell

General Gas & Electric Corporation

is the record of the utility industry

During 1921, when the most serious business depression in fifty years occurred, when the volume of manufacture declined 32%, the electric light and power industry not only showed no loss, but actually made a gain.

Why?

The public utility industry serves and receives revenue from almost every industry, every business and every home in practically every community of 1,000 population or over.

Even in any one city—unless it is a one-industry community-the active industries at any given time offset the less active ones.

The use of electricity in the average home is still for the most part on a minimum-necessity basis and can scarcely be reduced in less prosperous times.

Since 1913 the sale of manufactured gas has increased 160% and the number of customers nearly

The public utilities industry is in its period of rapid growth. Additional uses and needs for its services are constantly arising.

The General Gas and Electric Corporation has large holdings in widely diversified utility enterprises. Its operating properties serve the prosperous citrous growing area of Florida and the rapidly developing industrial area of South Carolina centering at Columbia where a development on the Saluda River is being constructed which will have the largest artificial lake in the world for hydro electric power.

The unbending stability coupled with the steady upward trend of the industry offers an unparalleled investment opportunity.

Tell the Story Complete---

Be they home buyer or apartment renter, every individual has pictured in their mind's eye just about what they would like to have. The location, the size, the exposure, accessibility to street car, bus or garage facilities, as well as distance from churches, school and stores are all things that are given as much consideration as is the purchase or rental figure.

Every day among the readers of The Washington Post are many who are seeking the purchase of a home or the rental of an apartment.

Right at the present time, when the new session of Congress is about to convene, there will be many newcomers to Washington. Why not put your real estate offerings in front of them through the columns of The Washington Post, which reaches them the first thing in the morning, giving them a full day, the same day the ad appears, to inspect your offerings.

REPARATIONS PLAN NEARS ACCEPTANCE

Nothing to Prevent Agreement, Is Unofficial Word on Stamp's Draft.

FRENCH CONSULT YOUNG

Paris, May 15 (U.P.) .- The repara tions conference has reached a point where there is "nothing which should really prevent an agreement on figures for annual payments and on the prin-ciple of the plan of payment." It was said semiofficially tonight after a ten-tative draft of the experts' final report was distributed to the delegates. The German reservations to accept-ance of the Young companies were ance of the Young compromise were included in the draft report drawn up by Sir Josiah Stamp, of Great Britain, and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, of Germany. Notations on the margin of the report also were made by Dr. Schacht to in-dicate his ideas as to the terms on which the compromise would be ac-which the compromise would be accepted by Germany.

The French delegates, who must accept the compromise to make an agreement possible, had a two-hour "heart-to-heart" talk with the unofficial United States delegation headed by Chairman Owen D. Young this afternoon before the draft report was distributed. Results of the conversation were not mesuits of the conversation were not announced, further than that Emile Moreau, chief French delegate, would confer tonight with Fremier Poincare—with the fate of the experts' conference probably depending on their conversation.

There was a general feeling that the German reservations would not pre-vent French acceptance of the compromise plan.

The decision of Belgium—the other doubtful country—was not known, but it was believed it would be the same as the French decision.

Tippett Jury Again Is Unable to Agree

Suspended Policeman Was Accused in Car Theft; Carter on Trial.

For the second time within two weeks, a jury yesterday reported a disagreement on a charge of larceny of an automobile against Policeman Elmer F. Tippett. 27, suspended member of the Eleventh Precinct, to Justice Frederick L. Siddons in criminal branch of the District Supreme Court.

While the jurors were engaged in a two-hour debate on the Tippett case. Policeman Curtis Carter, 26, suspended member of the Fifth Precinct, went on trial for a second time on a charge of violating the Jones liquor law. Carter's first trial, held two weeks ago, ended in a mistrial declaration when the jury was unable to agree. His case will go to the jury today.

Curb Review

New York, May 15 (A.P.). — Price movements in today's curb market lacked a definite trend, although sev. eral issues were pushed up to new high records in the face of an increase from 10 to 15 per cent in call money rates. While there was no extensive liquida-tion on the decline, neither was there any widespread public participation on the rallies, indicating that many speculators were content to sit on the sidelines until after the weekly meeting of the New York Federal Reserve directors was out of the way. DAWES INSTRUCTED ON DUTIES AS ENVO

Former Vice President, Here as White House Guest, Sees Stimson.

RETICENT ON KNEE PANTS

(Associated Press.)

(Associated Press.)

"You can go plumb to hell; that's my business," said the ambassador, pulling on his underslung pipe.

That was the answer Charles G. Dawes, newly appointed Ambassador to the Court of St. James, gave newspaper men yesterday in reply to an inquiry as to whether he was taking along to London a supply of knickers.

Before replying, however, he asked whether a diplomatic answer was wanted or whether an answer that the question deserved was in order. The correspondents were referring to the customary slik knickerbockers worn by diplomate at King George's functions. Gen, Dawes was initiated into the foreign service yesterday amid an air of cheerfulness. He is a guest of President Hoover at the White House and went over to the State Department during the forenoon to call on Secretary Stimson and receive his instructions, preparatory to salling for England on the steamship Olympic from New York on June 7. He spent more than an hour with Secretary Stimson and afterward posed with the secretary for camera men.

"Don't put away the pipe," remarked Secretary Stimson to the ambassador, as the pictures were about to be taken.

The new ambassador, with a new pigskin portfolio holding his documents and bearing on its side in his own handwriting "C. G. Dawes, Evanston, Ills., U. S. A." returned to the White House, saying he was going back to Chicago before salling for his foreign post.

Girl's Poison Death Held to Be Suicide

Coroner Issues Certificate for Evelyn Bates, High School Student.

After an autopsy on the body of the 19-year-old former Central High School student. Miss Evelyn Bates, 615 Sixth street northwest, who died Tuesday night at George Washington University Hospital from the effects of poison which she took a week ago, on May 9. Coroner J. Ramsay Nevitt yesterday issued a certificate of death by suicide. The autopsy revealed a quantity of the poison in the body, which was believed too large, a quantity to have been taken accidentally. The body will be buried tomerrow morning from the home of her sweetheart. Bernard R. Murphy, 23 years old, 1729 Riggs place northwest, according to present when it was learned that she was about to die. She suffered from a violent relapse just when the ceremonies were about to begin, in her room at the hos-pital, and died shortly afterward, at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Metal Exchange Opens Copper Future Trading

New York, May 15 (A.P.).—Sales of copper futures during the first day of trading in this metal on the National Metal Exchange today totaled 600,000 pounds, valued at approximately $100,-000. This is the first time that the red metal has been traded on an organized market in America.

The opening sale was a lot or contract, which consists of $0,000 pounds, of metal for December delivery at 16.75 cents a pound. This position, which was the most active, with a turnover of eight lots, later sagged to 16.65, then rebounded on the news that Anaconda Copper Mining Co. would curtail production 10 per cent. It closed at 16.81 bid. 16.90 asked. The only other active position was August, four lots of which were sold at 16.80. The closing bid and asked prices were 16.80-16.98 for all positions, July to November, inclusive.
